motion adopted. THE CLOSING SCENE. Bishop Marvin said that the concluding services of the body would be conducted by the oldest acting Bishop present—Dr. Paine—who said be had attended twelve General Conferences, the first in 1824. This in Memphis was briefest in its ex-istence, and perhaps the most harmoni-ous. He said that the admission of lay delegations had proven most fortunate, and in this his original opinions were confirmed. They would return to their homes conscious that they had been heartily welcomed, and constituted an

A communication was received tendering a lecture on Medicine, in behalf of the Society, which was referred to the Entertainment Committee.

Mr. Moode offered a resolution appropriating $100 to aid the Confederate orphans at Landerdale Springs, Miss., who are in a destitute condition, which was rejected—only one voting favorably.

The Committee on Badges reported work so far done, when time was granted them to further complete their labors.

It was resolved that the election for yearly officers of the Association take be at the regular meeting. Carried and

No Definite Returns from the Country--- A Quiet Day.

The election yesterday passed off more quietly than any ever before known in Memphis, where so much was at stake, and which had been so vigorously canvassed. As will be seen, the result is a sweeping Democratic victory in the city, and the success of the entire ticket throughout the county is almost certain. Our dispatches give full reports from the upper streams. A general upheaval of the waters has commenced but as yet indications do not favor a big river here for weeks to come. Hence to Cairo there is still a good stage, but from Cairo to St. Louis nine feet is very hard to find. The Arkunsas is low, and we should not wonder if some of our local packets have to reship below Little Rock this weak. White river is falling, and shoal places are quite numerous, causing some delay, loss of paint, an occasional little jur, etc. Weather pleasant and cloudy. Business too dull to speak about.
